Introduction

The Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship is for professional managers who take lead responsibility for people, projects, operations and/or services to deliver long term organisational success. It is applicable to professional managers from all sectors — the private, public or third sector — and all sizes of organisation. It will typically take 4 years to complete, although the exact duration will be dependent on the previous experience of the individual.

This apprenticeship has been designed to provide access to development opportunities for as wide a range of individuals as possible. This includes individuals who are at the start of their career and who wish to become professional managers and achieve professional recognition on achievement of the apprenticeship once they have passed their end-point assessment, as well as those who may already have developed practical experience but who wish to develop their theoretical understanding of management skills further.

The assessment approach will ensure that apprentices meet the skills, knowledge and behaviour outcomes as defined in the standard, whichever Higher Education Institute (HEI) is delivering the degree:

Successful individuals will also have the option to apply for Chartered Manager status and to register with a relevant professional body.

The approach has been designed to be:

- Appropriate, relevant and feasible in a wide range of contexts
- Consistent across these contexts
- Affordable and manageable based on the number of potential learners.

What distinguishes this apprenticeship is the blend of employer-defined skills, knowledge and behaviour outcomes that are integrated and assessed as part of a management degree, and professional recognition through the option to apply for professional recognition on achievement of the apprenticeship after the apprentice has passed the end-point assessment.

The HEIs will design their programmes and delivery to ensure all aspects of the standard are met. They will also develop approaches to delivery and on-programme assessment that will deliver high quality education and training to apprentices and fulfil employer expectations. This may either be achieved via a range of different delivery models including day release, distance learning and online, or through a more integrated approach designed in association with the apprentice's employer.

HEIs meet the rigorous quality assurance standards that are set, monitored and upheld by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education. They have robust and respected assessment processes and quality assurance that incorporates internal moderation and external examiners to ensure independence across the degree.

The apprentice will be able to apply for professional recognition on achievement of the apprenticeship once the apprentice has passed their end-point assessment.

The End-Point Assessment will be undertaken by an independent assessor. The independent assessor will have the final decision in relation to the assessment and grading of the apprentice. The independent assessor will come from an independent assessment organisation, from the Register of Apprentice Assessment Organisations.

The remainder of this assessment plan will set out the approach to assessment.

1. Assessment Overview

The delivery of the apprenticeship by the HEIs provides an integrated approach to developing and assessing skills, knowledge and behaviours across a range of modules within the degree programme. Each HEI will develop its own degree programme and will map the individual modules to the outcomes in the standard. Individual modules will contribute to the on-programme assessment of knowledge, skills and behaviour outcomes en-route to the final synoptic end point assessment. A portfolio of evidence will be created to support this and will be assessed as part of the end point assessment. The work-based project is a substantial piece of work undertaken within the final year of the apprenticeship.

Achievement of the apprenticeship will depend on apprentices being required to successfully complete a number of assessment activities. The methods used will ensure that the apprentice is assessed across the whole of the published Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship standard.

The apprentice needs to have met the requirements of the degree in order to satisfy the Gateway process. The employer (in consultation with the HEI), should then put the apprentice forward for the end-point assessment when they believe they are ready.

The independent assessor then receives a copy of the candidates' portfolio and work-based project, for assessment using a set of specific criteria ahead of competency-based questioning as part of the final interview. The independent assessor integrates the process for reviewing all submissions and assessing whether candidates meet the apprenticeship standard. At this end point assessment, the candidate's full portfolio, work-based project and presentation will be assessed against the standard, to ensure that the apprentice has demonstrated the full range of skills, knowledge and behaviours detailed in the standard. During this process the apprentice will be asked clarification and testing questions by the independent assessor.

The separation of the on-programme activity, Gateway process and end point assessment is demonstrated in diagram below:

ON PROGRAMME

- A range of modules within a Management Degree to develop knowledge, skills and behaviours progressively against the Standard (to the value of 360 credits).
- 2 Learning and ongoing assessment within the Individual Learning Plan.
- Portfolio compiled to provide evidence of the application of learning and the application of management concepts.
- Work Based Project undertaken towards end of programme a substantive piece of work requiring research, design and implementation.

Apprenticeships

Assessment Details

This is typically a 4-year apprenticeship with an integrated approach to the assessment of knowledge, skills and behaviours. Delivery and on-programme assessment are organised through a range of modules that deliver the HEI's approach to the degree curriculum, and through agreement with the employer in relation to workplace development opportunities. The modules will cover the breadth and depth of the standard using suggested on-programme assessment methods that integrate the knowledge, skills and behaviour components, and which ensure that the apprentice is sufficiently prepared to undertake the synoptic project, which will be assessed by the HEI, employer and independent assessor and the option to apply for professional recognition on achievement of the apprenticeship once the apprentice has passed their endpoint assessment.

The modules, synoptic work-based project and assessments will be clearly mapped to standard to show how the outcomes will be met. The standard can be found at Annex 1.

1.1 Assessment Methods

The assessment strategy includes on-programme and end point assessment using both on-programme and synoptic assessments.

The formative On-Programme Assessment methods will be agreed between the HEI and employer and are likely to include an appropriate mix of assignments, reports, practical exercises, projects, and feedback on behaviours via 360-degree feedback or equivalent mechanisms.

In addition, the apprentice will create a portfolio of evidence, which will demonstrate how learning has been applied, their achievements and capabilities. It is a collection of evidence which demonstrates evidence of the skills, knowledge and behaviours an apprentice has acquired against the standard and supports application for professional recognition on achievement of the apprenticeship once the apprentice has passed their end-point assessment. There will be regular reviews (at least quarterly) between employer and HEI with a formal annual on-programme assessment of progress. Towards the end of the programme, the apprentice will undertake a synoptic work-based project, which will bring together elements of their learning from different parts of the programme and show their accumulated knowledge and understanding of management and its application in their organisation.

The end point assessment is carried out by an independent assessor, which will include a presentation on the synoptic work-based project, review of portfolio evidence, and a question-and-answer session. This combination will fully test that the apprentice meets all the requirements of the standard.

2.2 Assessment Processes

2.2.1 On Programme Assessment

The On-Programme Assessment approach will be agreed between the HEI and employer. The assessment will give an ongoing indication of performance against the final outcomes defined in the standard.

The degree modules will cover the full range of the required skills and knowledge from the standard. Formative assessment will give an ongoing indication of performance against the final outcomes defined in the standard. Through regular reviews, the HEI and employer will support the apprentice, and provide extra guidance and support where performance issues might arise, to ensure the apprentice is fully supported in meeting the required outcomes.

This approach draws on good practice already undertaken in universities, combining it with employer support and workplace context to enable application of skills, knowledge and behaviours on an ongoing basis. Good practice guidance will be provided by the Employer Group, in conjunction with the HEIs, to help employers manage this process effectively.

In practice this means:

- Apprentices acquire knowledge, skills and behaviours as defined in the standard via the modules and assessments provided by the HEI
- Employers can select their preferred HEI, location and/or delivery model
- Apprentices do not have to be assessed more than once in a specific knowledge area.

Modules will be assessed and passed in accordance with university regulations. This will ensure that the student is prepared for the synoptic work-based project near the end of the programme and demonstrate successful outcomes against the knowledge, skills and behaviours defined in the standard. The descriptor for higher education qualifications at Level 6 on the Frameworks for Higher Education can be found at:

The Frameworks for Higher Education Qualifications of UK Degree-Awarding Bodies (qaa.ac.uk).

2.2.2 Gateway to the End Point Assessment

The Gateway process will be used to confirm that the apprentice has met the pre-requisite requirements of the standard before they move to the end point assessment.

Degree

The HEI will need to confirm that the degree has been completed, that the work-based project meets the final requirements of the degree, and that the degree can be awarded.

Apprentices will be graded by the HEI for their specific management and business degrees using Honours degree classifications for English Universities. All UK universities must follow the QAA Code of Practice for the assurance of academic quality and standards in higher education.

Employers (in consultation with the HEI) will decide when the apprentice is ready to be put forward for their end-point assessment.

2.2.3 End Point Assessment

Following successful completion of the Gateway, the HEI will submit the candidates' details and written submission to the independent assessor.

The independent assessor then receives a copy of the candidates' online portfolio and end project, for assessing ahead of a final interview. The portfolio of evidence and the work-based project are reviewed, assessed and marked to confirm that there is sufficient evidence that the candidate's learning has been applied, and that they have demonstrated all the skills, knowledge and behaviours against the standard – see more detailed criteria in Annex 3.

The independent assessor then integrates the process for reviewing all submissions and assessing whether candidates meet the Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship standard. At this point, the candidate's full portfolio, work-based project and presentation are reviewed against the standard, to ensure that the apprentice has demonstrated the full range of skills, knowledge and behaviours detailed in the standard. During this process the apprentice will be asked clarification questions by the independent assessor.

Work Based Project

The Work Based Project is one that represents the skills, knowledge and behaviours in the standard. It provides a substantive evidence base from a business-related project to demonstrate the application of skills and knowledge. The project will take place towards the end of the apprenticeship – likely to be during the final year – and will also be part of the Management Degree activity. The end point assessment integrates the project outcomes and presentation into the overall synoptic assessment.

Each project must enable the following to be demonstrated:

- The application of knowledge and skills to meet the outcomes in the standard
- The approach to planning and completion of the project
- The application of behaviours from the standard

The practical requirements for the delivery of synoptic projects are set out at Annex 2.

It is designed to assess apprentices in a consistent way, irrespective of their workplace and HEI. Because of the significance of the project, the employer and HEI will work together with the apprentice to agree a project that is achievable within the employer's business constraints whilst meeting the needs of the standard. The project should be conducted as part of the apprentice's normal work. The employer should make allowance, in terms of time and resource, for the project to be undertaken. Any elements which need to be undertaken outside of normal work should be agreed between the employer, apprentice and HEI so that apprentices are not disadvantaged in any way from performing their job and meeting the requirements of the project.

The completed project work will be submitted to the HEI for assessment as part of the degree, and also to the independent assessor who will ensure that it demonstrates competence across the apprenticeship standard. An interview based on the project, will then be convened by the independent assessor which will be used to probe the skills, knowledge and behaviours acquired through the apprenticeship and demonstrated through the project.

Portfolio

The evidence contained in the portfolio will comprise of complete and/or discrete pieces of work that cover the totality of the Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship standard. This will be a range of materials and documents generated over the period of the apprenticeship and which provide evidence of the apprentices' ability to apply and demonstrate management concepts.

The portfolio will be produced by the apprentice having first learned and applied the relevant skills/competencies and behaviours. It will demonstrate their very best work, enabling them to demonstrate how they have applied their knowledge and understanding in a real work environment to achieve real work objectives. Evidence may be in the form of reports, minutes, reflection, demonstrations, presentations, and feedback from managers and peers.

The portfolio will also show how the apprentice has demonstrated the behaviours, especially around contact with others, teamwork and areas where they have exceeded the requirements of the role. This can be in the form of manager's report, emails, customer comments, peer review etc.

Employers and the HEIs will assist the apprentice to develop their portfolio to ensure that it is complete and that it covers the totality of the standard.

The completed portfolio will be assessed by an independent assessor who makes their own judgement on the quality of the work. It will be tested against specific criteria, which will be on a sampling basis (a range of 10-20%) to prevent predictability and will cover a range of assessment methods used to gain evidence for the portfolio. The independent assessor will note particular aspects of the work that they wish to discuss with the apprentice during the interview, either to confirm their judgement and/or provide further information on which to base their grading decisions.

The Interview

The purpose of the interview is to:

- Clarify any questions the independent assessor has from their assessment of the work-based project and full portfolio;
- Confirm and validate judgements about the quality of work;
- Explore aspects of the work, including how it was carried out, in more detail;
- Provide a basis for the independent assessor to make a holistic decision about the grade to be awarded.

As part of the interview the apprentice will be required to take part in two end point assessment processes – a presentation on the work-based project and a Question-and-Answer session. This will be conducted face-to-face or in exceptional circumstances via video or teleconference.

The Presentation

The presentation focuses on the outcomes of the Work Based Project. The apprentice will deliver a 15-minute presentation which describes the objectives and outputs of their work-based project, and will demonstrate:

- What the apprentice set out to achieve
- What they have produced in the project
- How they approached the work and dealt with any issues
- Confirm the demonstration of appropriate interpersonal and behavioural skills.

The presentation will be assessed as part of the overall project assessment, and guidance on the nature of the presentation and assessment criteria will be agreed to ensure consistency in approaches and that all key areas are explored. The primary focus of the presentation will be on the work undertaken during the project, however during the question-and-answer session the independent assessor will be able to explore the apprentices' broader experiences to demonstrate that the knowledge and skills defined in the standard have been met.

Practical requirements for the presentation:

- The presentation will take place following the completion for the project and the preparation of the final report
- The apprentice will receive appropriate notice of their presentation time (a minimum of 7 days' notice)
- A structured brief will be used to support the presentation to ensure a consistent approach
- The presentation and Q&A session will normally be of approximately 1-hour duration
- The presentation will be conducted face to face, or in exceptional circumstances via live media
- The presentation will be conducted in a suitable location organised by the HEIs
- The apprentice must be put at ease to enable them to do their best
- The presentation will be to the independent assessor.

Question and Answer session

The apprentice will provide responses to a series of competency-based questions put to them by the independent assessor. The questions will require the apprentice to draw on their experiences throughout their apprenticeship but will also focus on the findings/recommendations made within their Work-based Project activity.

Further guidance will be developed by End Point Assessment Organisation, on the nature of presentation and the assessment criteria used, as well as the Question-and-Answer session.

2. Final Assessment and Grading

The final assessment and grading decision will be made by the independent assessor. Marks will be allocated across the areas being assessed, with a maximum possible mark of 100.

The independent assessor will award marks based on their assessment of the portfolio, work-based project, presentation and the interview.

The marks will be based on how the evidence presented to the independent assessor contributes to:

- What the apprentice has shown they can do against the requirements of their job role
- How the apprentice has approached and the way they have completed the task(s)
- Who the apprentice has worked with demonstrating personal and interpersonal qualities they have brought to all their work relationships

End Point Assessment Evidence	Maximum Mark
Portfolio	55
Project	25
Presentation and Interview	20

The marks will then be combined to give the final grading:

Grade	Total Mark
Distinction	70+
Merit	60+
Pass	50+
Fail	Less than 50

When applying the grades, the independent assessor hosting the interview will act as the final arbiter. This will not have any impact on the final degree classification that the HEI awards.

- What constitutes an outstanding manager: someone who is not just good, but also has the potential to improve quickly and someone who is not just confident and fully capable of doing the job, but someone who regularly goes beyond expectations.
- Market value: what employers across sectors would constitute as an outstanding and exemplary manager, demonstrated in a way that is transferable across employers.

3. Assessment Responsibilities and Quality Assurance

Who will assess?

All independent assessment organisations approved to deliver the end-point assessment for this standard can be found on the Register of Apprentice Assessment Organisations, to ensure employer choice.

As the assessor will be assessing work at Level 6, it will be required that each assessor holds a Masters/Level 7 qualification or comparable, has experience of the subject area for the assessments for which they will be responsible and holds an appropriate quality assurance qualification.

Internal Quality Assurance

All Independent Assessment Organisations will be registered on the Register of Apprentice Assessment Organisations and will be chosen by the employer.

The Independent Assessment Organisation will be responsible for internal quality assurance of the end point assessment process. To ensure that assessments are run correctly (in relation to running, marking, standardising and reporting outcomes) it is expected that they will:

- Uphold the rigour of a Level 6 apprenticeship standard
- Provide training to the assessor in relation to systems and process
- Ensure assessors have relevant experience and qualifications
- Undertake sampling of assessor work (it is anticipated this would be 40% of assessments undertaken)
- Standardise the assessment decision of assessors and consider external moderation of assessments
- Hold meetings with assessors to provide updates and share good practice at least twice a year
- Seek feedback from employers and training providers as to satisfaction with the service provided
- Meet any requirements set in relation to external QA.

They will also be responsible for undertaking any reporting requirements and provision of information relating to performance and outcomes.

The management degree will be graded using Honours degree classifications for English universities. All UK universities must follow the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) code of practice for the assurance of academic quality and standards in higher education. This ensures consistency across HEIs. The descriptor for higher education qualifications at Level 6 on the Frameworks for Higher Education can be found at: The Frameworks for Higher Education Qualifications of UK Degree-Awarding Bodies (qaa.ac.uk)

Any appeals in relation to the outcome of the end point assessment will be initially managed by the Independent Assessment Organisation and escalated to the external quality assurance organisation/group as appropriate.

External Quality Assurance

External quality assurance for the Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship will initially be undertaken by the Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education, whilst we are in conversation with Ofqual regarding them undertaking the role.

4. Professional Body Recognition

On completion, apprentices may choose to register as members with a relevant professional body to support their professional career development and progression.

On achievement of the apprenticeship once the end-point assessment has been passed, individuals will have the option to apply for professional recognition.

Further development/progression routes will be available, which include higher level qualifications and professional development.

5. Implementation: Management and Affordability

The approach presented offers an affordable and scalable solution to assessment for this apprenticeship. The approach is robust with an end point assessment that delivers an effective synoptic assessment at reasonable cost and through a delivery model, which minimises time and impact on the apprentice and employer.

It is recommended that the end point assessment will be delivered through a series of days, which will be set-up based on demand and across a range of geographical locations, with the option to deliver at HEI premises to reduce venue costs. This will ensure that the independent assessor and HEI time is maximised, and that employer and apprentices have access to independent assessors which are conveniently located, reducing the time spent on travel and associated costs. However, an independent assessor can be convened as needed to ensure that the completion of an apprenticeship is not affected.

The cost of the end point assessment represents 5% of the total cost of delivering the apprenticeship.

Duration: The typical duration for this apprenticeship is 4 years but will depend on the previous experience of the apprentice.

Entry requirements: Individual employers will set the selection criteria for their apprenticeships. Most candidates will have A levels (or equivalent) or existing relevant Level 3 qualifications, and English, Maths and ICT at Level 2. Other relevant or prior experience may also be considered as an alternative.

Qualifications: Successful apprentices will achieve a degree in management and business [either BA (Hons); BSc (Hons) or BBA (Hons)] and also have the option to be assessed for Chartered Manager status.

English and Maths - English and Maths will be required to be demonstrated at a minimum of Level 2.

Level: This apprenticeship standard is at Level 6.

Link to professional registration: Successful apprentices will have the option to apply for professional recognition as Chartered Managers and Members of the Chartered Management Institute (CMgr MCMI) and/or as a member of the Institute for Leadership and Management or other relevant professional body.

Review date: This apprenticeship standard should be reviewed three years after approval of the standard.

Annex 2

Practical Requirements for Synoptic Projects

Design of Synoptic Projects

- Specification of what must be delivered on completion of the project this must include the outputs, project plans etc.
- Terms of reference developed by the apprentice and agreed by the HEI and employer early in the project.
- HEI to provide clear project assessment criteria including terms of reference, approach to the problem, solution design and implementation, the final report and presentation.
- Apprentices must document their assumptions and highlight the consequences of these assumptions enabling them to demonstrate their understanding of commercial pressures and the application of their thinking and problem-solving skills.
- Agreement to be made between the apprentice, employer and HEI on what systems, tools and platforms will be required (if any) to complete the tasks and how these will be made available.

Delivery of Synoptic Projects

- HEIs will work with the employer and apprentice to agree the project title and support arrangements required to enable the project to be undertaken.
- The project should normally be based on an agreed business problem that forms part of the apprentice's role.
- Suitable time should be set aside by the employer for the apprentice to plan, undertake and write up their project.
- The apprentice will first work out what is required and present terms of reference and an initial plan for agreement with the employer and HEI.
- The project will typically be undertaken at the employer's premises.
- The employer and HEI will ensure that the apprentice has access to the tools and systems required to complete the tasks within the project.
- The apprentice will provide a signed statement to confirm the project is their own work.
- The synoptic project will be set and completed during the final year of the apprenticeship, near the end of the programme.

Requirements for the Project Environment

- A suitable project environment should be provided ensuring access to all required tools and systems. This may be the apprentices' normal place of work/workstation, or another environment suitable for the project.
- Someone responsible for managing the project from the employer perspective.
- A tutor from the HEI to oversee and provide support to the apprentice.

Annex 3

Learning Outcomes and Assessment Criteria

The learning outcomes and assessment criteria for the Chartered Manager Degree apprenticeship have been based upon the following:

- 1. DfE definition Level 6 descriptor
 - critically, review, consolidate and extend a systematic and coherent body of knowledge, utilising specialized skills across an area of study.
 - critically evaluate new concepts and evidence from a range of sources.
 - transfer and apply diagnostic and creative skills and exercise significant judgment in a range of situations.
 - accept accountability for determining and achieving group and/or personal outcomes.
